Senator Butler Hurls the Epithet at Governor Tillman.

FARMER BEN GETS A ROASTING

South Carolina's Chief Executive Accused of Cowardice-He Is Also Charged with Being a Blackguard, Bully, and Deliberate

COLUMNIA, S. C., June 20.—The peace which thus far has reigned over the senatorial campaign in South Carolina was abruptly dispelled lo-day. A bitter speech was made by Senator Butler, which created the greatest excitement. The cause of the eruption dates back to the first meeting at Rock Hill, on Monday. At this meeting Mr. Butler's supporters were apparently in a large majority. The Tillman forces harged that the Butler contingent was com-osed of allens carried there by the superinndent of the Richmond and Danville railroad.

In his speech at Yorkville yesterday Governor Tillman referred to Butler's Rock Hill supporters as Coxey's men, and said: "Possibly some of Gen, Butlers overzealous friends may have ened this. If the superintendent of the Richmond and Danville railroad is prostituting his authority by hauling people free, we ought to know it. If there is a corruption fund raised New York then you ought to know it, for it is

Gov. Tiliman said he wanted issues discussed, and yet at Yorkville, where ad the reply, put an insult on my character I permit no man living to do without re-ing."

There was greater indications of a storm. Senator Butler walsed across the platform and, raising his voice, said: "He must take his punishment like a man. He said yesterday, or if he did not say so he adopted a meaner form by insimuating and suggesting, that I had a corruption fund from Wall street or elsewhere with which to buy my seat into the man, he said: "I say, in reply, that it decrease Tillman or any one else makes that charge against me he is an infamous liar."

The crowd was dumbfounded. It looked at Semtor Butler and Senator Butler looked at Governor Hilman, and everything was as quiet as the calmest sea, when all of a sudden there was an outburst of applanase, with mingled cheers for Butler and Tillman. After order had been restored, Senator Butler continued:

"When he has a charge to make against me let him make it like a man of courage and truth; let him specify and not indulse in the innendo of a blackmard and builty. The man has never lived and never will live who imputes dishonesty to me. [Furrans for Butler and Tillman.] Governor Tillman may go to the Senate, but he shall not go there slandering me. Let him go there slandering me. Let him go there on his own merits and not by villifying, lampsoning, and intercepts and not by villifying, lampsoning, and intercepts and tell the talks of my friends at Rock Hill being Coverites. There is one of my gailant friends from Edgefield [pointing 10 a man in the crowd], as true a man as ever lived. He would no mare undertake to tell that man he was a tramp if he were en equal terms, with him than he would no mare undertake to tell them. ONCE MORE THE LIE IS PASSED.

"I did not provide these men with transporta-tion and had nothing to do with their coming. I ould have nothing to do with it. Governor illiman, perhaps, thought he had been bossing Tillman, perhaps, thought be had been bossing this state long enough to think he had a right, tille, and interest to it. Governor Tillman says I decimed to make speeches in 1891. I dum the leve the committee ever made the request, in the first place. They ignored me, and Governor Tillman closes it tell the truth when he says I was invited to speak in that comparing I was systematically dimored, Gen. Hampton went to Alken, where he was invited and was howled down by Gov. Tillman's myrmidons, and they tried to disgrace and humiliate the old man. The Governor says

"He charged men at a distance with corruption. I wonder if he stays there six years if any of their money will stick to his peckets. But he is perpetrating a deliberate stander when he is continually talking of bibery and corruption in the Senate. I do not believe any of them can be bought half as easy as the man who stigmatizes them. For there are from the South such true, honest nen as Gordon and Waish, Vest and Co-krell. Morgan, and Pugh. Blackburn and Lindsay, and Barry, and Jones, and Jarris, and all the others against whom the foul breath of suspicion has never been hurled except by the man who is a hundred miles away."

Senator Butley criticised flow, Tillman's administration in plain terms, and made a very effective speech. What its effect will be no one can tell. There is a general thankfulness that

WIMAN'S SENTENCE.

Five Years and Six Months at Hard Labor in Sing Sing.

New York, June 20,-Erastus Wiman, philanthropist, whilem capitalist, and now convicted of forgery, was sentenced by Judge Ingraham to-day to five years and six months at hard labor in Sing Sing. Gen. Tracy, of counsel for Wiman, made a motion for a new trial upon the grounds that the court had misdirected the jury, and that the verdict was misdirected the jury, and that the verdict was clearly contrary to law and against the evidence. Judge Ingraham denied the motion, and then proceeded to pass sentence, his voice being pitched so low as to be scarcely audible at the reporters' table.

As soon as sentence was passed Mr. Tracy made an appeal for stay of execution on the ground that Mr. Wiman had a great deal of business to attend to, and Judge Ingraham rold Downty Sheriff Brown is instruct Sheriff.

CLARK IGNORES THE DEMAND

Architect of the Capitol Summarily Requested to Resign.

This Reason Given for Its Action by the House Committee on Ventilation-Held the Office Too Long-He Declines the Invitation-President Must Act.

The House Committee on Ventilation and Acoustics vesterday made a request upon Ed-ward Clark, architect of the Capitol, for his tion of the ventilation of the Capitol building. Mr. Clark was told when summoned before the chairman of the committee, Hon. George W. Shell, of South Carolina, that the resignation was requested because he had held the office a long time and had not kept pace with the modern methods of his profession. Mr. Clark declined to comply with the re-quest. The office is one which is filled by presidential appointment, and Mr. Clark has held it

Mr. Clark stated last light that he had been asked to resign by Chairman Shell.

"I don't." said he, "consider the committee authorized to call upon me to resign. My office is a presidential one, and I do not propose to resign. The President can remove me, or Congress can abolish my office. I decline, however, to talk about the matter."

Mr. Clark admitted, however, that the committee had questioned him relative to the methods of ventilating the Capitel, and had intimated that the ideas carried out by him in that direction were not satisfactory to the committee. Mr. Clark believes the request due to the fact, to use his own words, that "some one wants my place and is to be accommodated."

Mr. Clark when asked if he intended to hold on until put out, smiled at the question and replied, "I don't know what the President may do."

Feeling that he was growing ill he informed Rev. Dr. Stafford, who was near him, and was limmediately assisted to an adjoining room, where it was discovered that he had been affected by heat.

Sister Superior Fidelia, aided by other sisters of the convent, administered restoratives, which revived Mr. Stevenson sufficiently to enable him to be taken to his carriage and driven to his apartments at the Normandie. Dr. Morrison was immediately called. He ordered that the distinguished patient be kept free from callers and permitted to enjoy quiet.

The hotel employes were reticent about Mr. Stevenson's condition when spoken to. They refused to carry cards to his room. It was stated that positive orders had been received that no caller should be shown up to the rooms. Mr. Stevenson was quite busy at the Capitol yesterday, and shortly before leaving there went into Architect Clark's office to examine a marbile bust of himself, which has just been completed, and is soon to be put in the marbie room of the Senate He appeared then to be well and was not heard to complain. It is believed, however, that in order to reach the Georgetown convent in time for the exercises there he over-exerted himself.

At a late hour it was stated atthe Normandie that Mr. Stevenson was sleeping quietly and that the was much improved It was also learned that the physician in attendance had not called since evening, and this fact encouraged Mr.

POPE LEO'S POLITICAL WILL

Last Work of Magnitude He Will Be Able to Give to the World.

All Men Are Invited to Enter the Church. Grieved at Schisms and Animosities-Appeal to Protestants - Freemasons Condemned as Enemies of Religious Unity.

Rows. June 20.-The following is a forecast of tope Leo XIII's jubilee encyclical letter or political testament, the most important docuent his Holiness has drawn up, and probably the last work of magnitude which he will be able to give to the world. The encyclical has lege of cardinals, and will shortly be promul-

The letter commences with recalling the recent demonstration upon the occasion of the jubilee of His Holiness as evidence of Catholic ruity, and says that, imitating Christ, who, on the eve of His ascension, prayed that his disciples be united, he, the Pope, at the end of his life, desires to invite all men, without distinction of race or country, to enter the Church. Refer-ring to the heathens, His Holiness prays that God will increase the number of devoted mis-

tries, and expresses the grief of the Pope at the schisms and animosities which bave torn flourishing countries from the bosom of the Church, and the hope is expressed that divine

AN APPEAL TO PROTESTANTS.

His Holiness then appeals to Protestants, and wints out that they have no fixed rule of faith nor authority, and asserting that many of them even deny the divinity of Christ, the Inspiration the Scriptures, and end by falling into natural-n and materialism. The Pope then names lightened Protestants who ended by returning faith, hope, and charity based on the same gospel.

The encyclical refers to the movement in certain countries against the Church, enjoining Catholics to shake off sloth in view of this hostlity and to submit entirely to the tutelage of the Church, whose mission it is to teach and to legislate in regard to things falling under its jurisdiction, without being subservient to any, and at the same time exciting the ency of none. The Church can pursue the work of guiding men in the fulfillment of their duties, as it is animated by the spirit of a cord towards the civil powers, and willingly concludes pacts with them.

The Fope makes a vet-d reference to the friction between Church and State in Italy by deploring the revival of acts of oppression which animates ancient regalities against the Church.

FREEMASONBY CONDEMEND.

FREEMASONRY CONDENNED,
His Holiness condemns the Freemasons, claim ing that they are the enemies of religious unity, and especially denounces their so-called auda-cious activity in Rome. Further, His Holiness cious activity in Rome. Further, His Holiness calls upon Italy and France to shake off the despotism of freemasonry, in order that religious concord may exist, holding that Europe presents the appearance rather than the reality of pence, and that education in husts adry, the arts and commerce is serious y mens. It.

The encyclical concludes with re alling the former encyclical of the Pope on the social question, declaring that liberty and the people can be made to harmonize with power and the rulers, whatever form of government exists, as the right to command and the duty of obedience proceed from God, to whom the rulers must account for their stewardsnip. The Fope strongly appeals to the latter to foster religious union, in order that the close of the present century may not resemble the sterny end of the last century.

Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, who was absent rom the city last week when the Senators were examined by the Senate sugar trust investigating committee, went before the committee yesterday and made reply to the committee ques-tions concerning speculation in and ownership of sugar stock. He answered all the questions in the negative, saying he had not bought, sold, or owned any of the stock, and that no one con-nected with his family to his knowledge had Senator Allen also thinks the end is near. Chairman Gray would go no further than to say that no additional witnesses would be examined at present. It is generally believed that there will be two, if not three, reports upon certain features of the investigation. Senators Gray and Lindsay are expected to unite in one, and Senators Davis and Ledge in another, while it is uncertain whether Senator Allen will join with the Republican Senators or put in an independent report of his own. All the members will probably unite in whatever may be said concerving speculation by Senators.

Senators Gray and Lindsay were engaged yesterday in looking up law and precedents for their proposed minority report to the Senate in the cases of Messrs. Havemeyer and Searles.

the Bell, Lewis & Yates Co., is daily growing more alarming. They are hourly seen concecting new schemes for resisting the guards and new men that are expected any moment. To-day they were in town purchasing firearms, cartridges, and other ammunition, and have even purchased all the marbles they could find with which to load their cannon.

They are keeping a sharp watch on the Euglish-speaking miners so that none slip away, but all who can are leaving and moving with their families to town for protection. Grave fears are entertained here that when the guards arrive there will be one of the bloodiest battles ever fought in the coal regions, and that there will be great destruction of life and property.

CIVIL SERVICE VIOLATIONS

Discussed in a Conference Between the Alleged violations of civil service laws in va rious post offices were yesterday discussed in a conference held between Postmaster General Bissell and Civil Service Commissioners Proctor, Roosevelt and Lyman.

The principal post offices to which the attention of the Postmaster General was called were Lancaster, Pa.; Montgomery, Ala., and Norwalk, Ohio.

The commission urged the removal of Postmaster Malone, of Lancaster, who is charged with intimidating the post office employes for partisan purposes. The complaints of violations at the Lancaster office were filed with the com-

After the adjournment of the conventions Mr. Perkins took a short trip to the Indian Territory for business purposes. While in that country he suffered a sudden attack of illness, caused, he thought, by drinking a glass of cold water when overheated. Either this or the unpalatable condition of the water was primarily the cause of his death.

One week ago yesterday he returned to the city feeling indisposed, but not making complaint. He considered his attack as too trivial to need attention, and refused to submit to treatment. Ever since he has been suffering, but until last night steadfastly refused to call a physician. He did not even confine himself to the house, but continued his attention to his business, priding himself on his sturdy health, and thinking that he would soon recover completely.
